Limburg, December 2022

UKCA label

Dear Business Partner,

In September of this year, we had informed our mechatronics customers that, due to the existing British regulations, from January 1, 2023 at the latest, all mechatronic products such as servo actuators and servo controllers, which today bear a CE mark, will also be marked with an additional UKCA adhesive label.

The background to this was the announcement by the government of the United Kingdom that from January 1, 2023, the European CE marking will no longer be valid in England, Wales and Scotland. In replacement, the new UKCA standard (United Kingdom Conformity Assessed) shall be applied.

In November 2022 the coming into effect of this legislation was postponed by the UK government for further two years. This means that the CE mark will remain valid in the UK market until December 31, 2024.

Nevertheless, we have decided not to postpone the implementation by 2 years, but to roll out the UKCA label successively by end of 2023.

Best regards
